SECTION 1: INTRODUCTION

How Crypto Currency Has changed the world?

Cryptocurrencies have long been discussed and debated, but they're only now coming to light as financial tools that can be accessible and useful to more than only die-hard connoisseurs. Cryptocurrencies have the potential to enable social and economic growth throughout the world, including in developing countries, by offering easier access to capital and financial services.

Cryptocurrencies and Bitcoin in particular have a highly utilitarian, yet also disrupting quality that has slowly, but steadily started to interfere with the way the traditional financial system works.

There is already an entire industry built around cryptocurrencies and it's held by institutions dedicated to supervising all the digital coin exchanges taking place throughout the world. The rate at which the cryptocurrency industry is growing is earth-shattering and this can be confirmed by early adopters that became rich overnight and found opportunities to grow financially.

Who Are We?

At ExplicitExchange Plc , we look to connect the wildly profitable market of cryptocurrency , to potential investors. We understand that after the 2009 global financial crisis, the world needs to shift its focus from a centralised to a decentralised economy. This booming market has the potential to create long standing wealth for generations to come.

We at ExplicitExchange Plc strive to understand the crypto markets in order to provide the maximum profits for our investors.

Our Mission?

ExplicitExchange Plc is one of the most well-known technology companies in the world. It makes profits for our investors on a worldwide scale, and its vision statement reflects that. Through our deep market analysis and astute crypto pricing projections we can provide massive returns on investments to anyone that needs it.

The mission to connect people is what makes our statement so strong. And, that promise has gone beyond our expert market analysis: Our team has made strides in the communities where we have open our investment opportunities too. Primarily, we provide a means of passive income to both young and old, to provide long term sustainability, and wealth.

SECTION 2: Why Invest With Us?

While there are numerous investment platforms out there in the world, many of them fall short in these key areas.

Out of all the issues highlighted above, ExplicitExchange looks to correct those errors and make your profit generation easy and sustainable over a long term timeframe. It is with this business model that has allowed our team to retain 99% of our investors over the last 2 years , and we are positive that we will continue this trend over the coming years.

Our Growth Potential

Growth potential is an organization's future ability to generate larger profits, expand its workforce and increase production. In the business sense, an organization's growth potential depends heavily upon its leadership's expectations for success, and the quantitative and qualitative measures used to determine expansion readiness.

Through our dedicated team of investors and research analysis has allowed our growth to increase every year by 50% since the inception of ExplicitExchange Plc in 2015.

Our Market Forecast

ExplicitExchange Plc Major Players

Our major Investments include (but are not limited to):

1) BITCOIN

Bitcoin is the coin that started the entire cryptocurrency movement. Created in 2009, it was an open-source program, meaning that any developer could copy it and use it for their own projects. And its main purpose was to allow people to conduct monetary transactions with each other without needing to employ a financial institution as a middleman.

2) LITECOIN

Litecoin has emerged to become one of the most solid alternatives to Bitcoin as a method of paying for goods and services or receiving payment for them. This altcoin (alternative coins are considered to be any form of cryptocurrency besides Bitcoin) attempts to solve the problems of Bitcoin scalability. Scalability is a word that is meant to represent how many transactions a cryptocurrency can complete in a given amount of time.

3) ETHEREUM

If there is one other cryptocurrency coin that has arguably entered the public consciousness on a widespread level besides Bitcoin, it is Ethereum, with its native coin, Ether. And like Bitcoin, it was in many ways the first of its kind, spawning many imitators in its wake who are trying to improve upon what Ethereum initiated.
